Kansas City Native Wins Big!

Dominic is a Kansas City native who completely fell in love with Branding at the University of Central Missouri Where he obtained his degree in Public Relations. But getting to where he is was not always an easy journey. As a product of the Kansas City Missouri Public School District, he defied the odds and statistics that said he could not; and he did. Dominic then dedicated his life to helping others in his community build equity, ultimately encouraging them to profit off of the changes that are taking place in Kansas City. Fresh out of college, he began to seek opportunities that warranted more experience than he had obtained. His internship at Crossroads Public Relations taught him to shoot for the stars, and he did. Along the way, he discovered an increase in entrepreneurship in the greater Kansas City area. Dominic elaborates in his vision by stating, "I saw that there were a lot of people who had amazing ideas but just didn't know how or where to start." So he developed BrandHouse. BrandHouse is dedicated to helping small business owners get their start. Dominic says, "At BrandHouse, we help you leverage your unique business idea and assist you with shaping your brand yo ultimately assist you in finding your place in the market. Dominic Is truly excited for this milestone and looks forward to the next stop on his Journey!
