DOMINIC DONELL

Storytelling. Strategy. Branding.

ABOUT DOM

I completely fell in love with marketing in undergrad at the University of Central Missouri, whose unique program prepared me to be the ambitious communicator I am today! I began freelancing under the name Brand House soon after graduating in 2018. I noticed a wave of startups appearing in the greater Kansas City area, and I wanted to assist in developing their social media strategies.

In my current role, I find the most joy in developing my student workers and pushing them to reach the pinnacle of their creative potential by cultivating a space where they feel empowered and inspired to share and, more than anything, CREATE!
